ABOUT SCIENCE AWARENESS PROGRAMME (SAP)

Human Rights to Education is vital to ensure right to education as it enables the education system to fulfil its fundamental duty of developing human personality and promoting the appreciation of human dignity and delivery of quality education for all.

Choosing the right stream has a long-lasting impact on a student's future. It has often been noticed that students are displeased with their decisions. The decision they once took out of peer or parental pressure or due to lack of knowledge later becomes a burden to them.

There is also an observable increase in the number of dropouts. So, it is very important that students choose their stream carefully matching their aptitude for further career prospects in future.

The first stage of stream-choice is self-assessment. This involves identifying their interest and understanding their aptitude and skills. They must feel satisfied with the profession they pursue.

With this in mind, VITVA International Charitable Trust has come up with the concept of Science Awareness Programme (SAP). The awareness programme is intended for students as well as their parents to help make this an easier task.

SAP is a scientific awareness programme, which is proposed to be implemented at high school level (secondary education), with the objective of improving the scientific awareness of students, who have the right aptitude and empower them to grab opportunities and channelize them in the correct path of their higher education. SAP will not only take into consideration the issues of the students but will also give guidance to parents to show the right path to their wards.

The programme is enlightened by the involvement of Padmareshi Datta Chandraiah, Indian Space Scientist and former Director of Vikram Sarabhai Space Research Centre. SAP received the kind of support & facilities under "Science popularization scheme" of Karnataka State Council for Science, Technology & Environment.
